Srote & Co Architects Welcomes Jenny Brcic as Project Manager

(ST. LOUIS, MO – May 17, 2023) – Srote & Co Architects | Planners | Interiors is pleased to announce the hiring of Jenny Brcic as project manager and their newest addition to the growing architectural and design team. Brcic comes to Srote & Co with a Master of Architecture degree from the University of Kansas and a professional career of over 10 years in architectural design and project planning for two accomplished St. Louis area commercial architecture firms. She possesses extensive experience in all project phases, from Programming to Construction Administration, with her most notable project experience including the SSM Health Saint Louis University Replacement Hospital new construction, SSM St. Joseph Hospital Lake St. Louis addition, and the SSM Health DePaul Hospital renovation. While most of her previous project experience is limited to commercial healthcare facilities, Brcic will now contribute her expertise into the residential sector as well.

As an architectural Project Manager, Brcic will develop architectural building design plans in collaboration with both the interior design and architect teams. She will be responsible for project planning and coordination, client communication, project schedules, budget tracking and overall leadership of tasks throughout the design/build process.

“Jenny’s passion for design and level of project commitment directly aligns with ours,” stated Joe Page, managing architect of Srote & Co Architects. “We are very pleased to welcome Jenny knowing her experience and skills will add to our firm’s value and efficiency, helping us to always exceed client expectations.”
